

Starting the program and entering the key

Program Initialization: When you start the software, the bootloader window opens, where the user can start the installation and activation process.

The screenshot shows the TOPODRONE Post Processing software installer window. On the left, there is a section for entering the license key, with a text input field and buttons for 'Purchase license' and 'Upgrade license'. Below this are social media and support links. The main area contains a table of software versions with columns for Release date, Version, Availability, and Description. At the bottom, there is a red bar with the text 'Enter the license key' and a 'Download' button.

Release date	Version	Availability	Description
12.11.2024	1.4.5.0	Enter the key	Update description 1.4.5.0
04.11.2024	1.4.4.4	Enter the key	Update description 1.4.4.4

17.03.2024	1.3.2.2	Enter the key	Update description 1.3.2.2

Entering the license key: If you have a valid license key, you must enter it in the designated field marked "Enter the license key".

The license key consists of 36 characters and has the format: _*_*_*_. If your key consists of 19 characters and is presented in the form *_*_*_*, this indicates that it belongs to the previous licensing system and is not suitable for current versions of the software. To get a new license key, it is recommended to use the "Support Mail" button or send a request to the email address support@topodrone.com, specifying the name of the equipment used and the name of your organization.

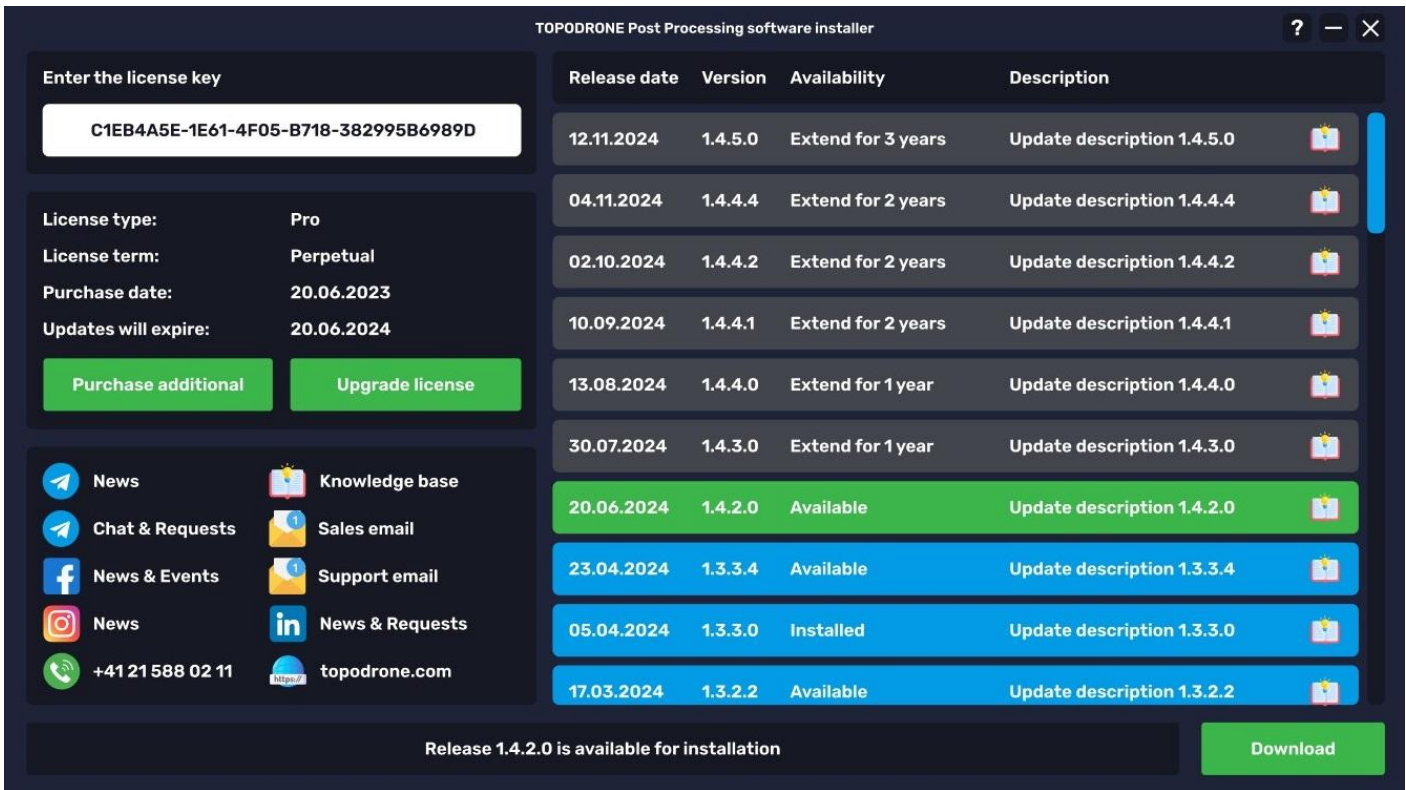

Display of available versions: After successfully entering the license key, information about available software versions will appear in the right part of the program interface. Versions that are available for download and installation within the current license key validity period are highlighted in blue, while gray indicates versions that require a license renewal to be used.

The screenshot shows the 'TOPODRONE Post Processing software installer' window. On the left, there is a license key input field containing 'C1EB4A5E-1E61-4F05-B718-382995B6989D'. Below this, license details are displayed: License type: Pro, License term: Perpetual, Purchase date: 20.06.2023, and Updates will expire: 20.06.2024. There are two green buttons: 'Purchase additional' and 'Upgrade license'. A sidebar on the left contains social media and support links: News, Knowledge base, Chat & Requests, Sales email, News & Events, Support email, News, News & Requests, +41 21 588 02 11, and topodrone.com. The main area on the right is a table of available versions.

At the bottom, there is a text prompt: 'Select a release available for installation or request an invoice for extended support' and a 'Download' button.

Software Update: To update the TOPODRONE Post Processing software, select the appropriate line in the list of available versions, which will be highlighted in green, then click the "Download" button and specify the folder path to save the downloaded file.

Displaying the download progress: The download progress percentage will be displayed at the bottom of the window, which allows the user to track the process.

Installation Process: After the download is complete, the installer window will automatically open, where you must follow the standard procedures to complete the installation of TOPODRONE Post Processing software.

Activating the program: After successful installation, run TOPODRONE Post Processing. On the registration screen, enter your license key in the appropriate field for the serial number and click "Activate".

Ready to work: The program will be activated and ready for use, allowing you to successfully perform tasks related to post-processing data and implementing the functionality provided by the TOPODRONE system.

These steps provide a clear understanding of the software installation and activation process, making it much easier for users to interact with the product.
